SUMMER 2016 PROJECT PRESENTATION

Thursday, May 12, 2016 at 7 p.m.

Apostle Islands National Lakeshore Headquarters Bayfield, WI

Join project director Janet Moore for an introductory program about this exciting art adventure this summer, inspired by the breathtaking beauty of Lake Superior.

This project includes:

- A series of five free place-based workshops throughout the summer of 2016, following the water from the headwaters of the Bad River to Madeline Island, the Apostle Islands National Lakeshore and on to Red Cliff.
- A diverse group of 25 tribal and non-tribal members, including Bad River Youth Outdoors and Tribal Youth Media, will learn about the many layers of culture, history, and ecology of this amazing place.
- Led by guest artists in photography, drawing, painting, pastels, and traditional Ojibwe art, artists will hone their skills to create images expressing their unique experience of this shared vision, to be part of a public exhibition in the winter of 2016/2017.
- Participating guest artists include Janet Moore, Jeff Rennie, Terry Daulton, Diane Canfield Bywaters, and Biskakone Greg Johnson.

We will be recruiting and selecting participants, high school age and up, for this unique opportunity. Application information and upcoming workshop dates will be shared at the program or are available by contacting Janet Moore at janetmooreart@gmail.com.
